Message from Your Public Works Committee

Your Public Works Committee has been working hard and has several projects underway, which are being completed by Town Staff. The Committee consists of: Walter Looshorn, Larry Steinacher, George Prudat, Antony Leeson and until recently Bob Veenstra.

This past spring we rebuilt the town's website and hope that you are using it. Shiloh is still adding information but you can now even read the minutes of council meetings and it is used to send a daily message to FaceBook letting you know what is happening that day. It also has a community calendar that you can use to add events. Please visit it and "like" us on FaceBook.

An engineering study of the Communiplex was completed. Main interests were the exterior of the curling and skating rink but the report also addressed interior safety, electrical and fire perspectives. That report is available on the town website, or at the town office.

The arena has over 36,000 bolts that attach the steel cladding – many are missing, some are worn out from the wind and all need to be retightened. We hope to have that work completed by freeze up.

In the spring the bowling alley flooded – to correct that we will be re-sloping all 4 sides of the skating rink, including the parking lot and again we hope to have that work completed by freeze up.

5 culverts on 4th street, near the Communiplex entrance, have recently been dug out. Hopefully that will help the water run-off.

Homestead Place (across from the Communiplex) will be re-graveled and re-sloped. This should help during next spring's melt.

The town is replacing the water mains and connections on the highway from Kim's Service to 2nd Avenue. Over the past year there have been several water main breaks in this area and the underground infrastructure needs to be replaced.

Earlier this year we sprayed most gravel streets with calcium chloride and that really helps keep the dust down. We contracted that out but thanks to Garry Nedelec, the town now owns their own applicator. He converted an agriculture sprayer, allowing town staff to spread calcium chloride on our streets. Last Saturday Garry, Walter and I used it to coat several high use gravel roads – it is easy to use and much, much cheaper than contracting.

There are other initiatives underway but the above list will give you, the people of St Walburg, some idea of what the Public Works Committee is doing.

Muriel's Musings....

Black & White Girl

Since Tailgate has been gone the "Girls" have been trying to select a leader. So far, this has not been going all that well. "The Girls" will follow Dave and me out to go "walkies" but as soon as Odette, our oldest girl, heads back to the barn, away they all go. They will then mill around in the barnyard for a bit and then come tearing back out to go "walkies" with Dave and me. Eventually Odette and Chris-Cross will also return to the herd. Pansy is the most dominant goat, but no one likes her, she's just way too bossy. Einstein is the actual oldest, but he is so democratic that he generally makes no decisions whatsoever. Petal, Pansy's sister, while fairly dominant, just doesn't want the responsibility. Petal tends to lose her kids on an on-going basis, one always has to be aware as to where she might leave them. Chris-Cross and White Girl are at the bottom of the heap as far as hierarchy goes in the barnyard. Black and White Girl, who will defend herself and kids, also is lower in the pecking order. This leaves Coco, who is easy going, always knows when and where food is located, is on the older side and could take up the reins. Coco appears to ignore the possibility of moving up and taking over. She just moseys through her day, eating and sleeping. She is not demonstrating any intension she may want to take over.

Odette, who they will follow back to the barn, shows no indication that she will lead them anywhere else. She is extremely old and probably does not want the responsibility. Dave and I are hanging around trying to convince some that Pansy won't be all that bad, even Coco, but so far no takers. All the them mill around in a huddle and no actions are taken. Dave and I are now starting to mill around as well, hoping someone will make the first move in leadership. Dave and I don't have a chance at the position, we're just not there enough. While the "Girls" will follow us, others make the decision just how far they will go with us and for how long. We're all getting frustrated in the barnyard. Hopefully this will be resolved in the near future.....Muriel
